Call for Participation

2nd Southern African Psychology Students’ Conference
23 and 24 June 2011, University of South Africa (Unisa)

Theme
Re-imagining Psychology: the journey continues

Students and staff from psychology departments across Southern Africa are invited to join us for the second Southern African Psychology Students’ Conference. The conference is hosted in Pretoria, Tshwane by the Department of Psychology at Unisa. We welcome participation by students and lecturers from all other Southern African psychology and related departments. We envisage that the conference will consist of both formal academic presentations as well as many more informal opportunities for interaction and debate.

Re-imagining psychology
The first Southern African Students’ Psychology Conference was held in Gaborone in June 2009. More than 200 students from 23 universities and 14 countries attended. The 80-plus presentations covered all aspects of the discipline, with many presentations interrogating issues of race, gender, class and culture. Several presentations also focused on controversial issues in the learning and teaching of psychology, with some heated debates between students and lecturers.

Please write to Thandeka Tshabalala tshabtl@unisa.ac.za or or visit our wiki for more info: http://kgomo.pbwiki.com